This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

EXPLANATORY NOTE.

PRELIMINARY.

1. This list includes all the Elementary Schools recognised by the Board as on the Annual Grant List (Article 27 of the Code), or on the List of Certified Efficient Schools, on 1st August 1906.

2. The principles on which the list is made out were explained in the Explanatory Note to the previous volume (1906 Cd. 3182), which showed the Schools on the Annual Grant List and the List of Certified Efficient Schools on 1st January 1906. The following paragraphs contain the substance of that note, with some necessary modifications.

3. The Board will be glad if Local Education Authorities and Managers of Schools will furnish them with corrections of any inaccuracies at as early a date as possible.

ARRANGEMENT.

4. The Schools are arranged according to Local Education Authorities; these being grouped under geographical Counties, which are arranged alphabetically. Under each geographical County the Administrative County is sub-divided into the areas which are under separate Authorities for Elementary Education, viz.:—

(a) Area under the County Council;
(b) Boroughs (other than County Boroughs), arranged alphabetically;
(c) Urban Districts, arranged alphabetically.

The areas thus constituting the Administrative County are followed by the County Boroughs situated in the same geographical County, these being also arranged alphabetically.

5. In the case of Cambridgeshire, Cornwall, Hampshire, Lincolnshire, Northamptonshire, Suffolk, Sussex, and Yorkshire, where two or more Administrative Counties are comprised in the geographical County, a corresponding geographical sub-division is made; the County Boroughs being associated with those Administrative Counties to which they are respectively most closely related for local government purposes.

6. Under each Local Education Authority there are placed not only the ordinary Public Elementary Schools maintained by the Authority but also (a) Higher Elementary Schools, (b)

Digitized by Google

Schools aided by the Board of Education under Section 15 of the Education Act, 1902, and (c) Certified Efficient Schools. Schools of these latter classes are included, in order that the printed list may, amongst other purposes, serve as a summary of the existing School accommodation in each area. Since, however, they are of a different character from ordinary Public Elementary Schools, their names are placed in square brackets.

7. In most cases the whole of the Schools within the area of a Local Education Authority are within one of the Inspection Districts organised by the Board. Where this is not the case, an indication is given, in accordance with a note prefixed to the list of Schools in the area, of the Inspection District in which each school is situated.

8. The previous volume related to 1st January 1906, and the present volume relates to 1st August 1906. The changes which have taken place during the interval between these two dates are due to the closure of schools, to the opening of new schools, and to transfers to Local Education Authorities of schools which were not previously Council Schools, but either were maintained by the Local Education Authority or were aided by the Board of Education under Section 15 of the Education Act, 1902. These changes, and similar changes which took place during the five months from 1st August 1905 to 1st January 1906, are shown in footnotes, and the names of the schools closed or opened during that period are printed in italic type.

School Numbers.

9. The list contains two series of School Numbers, described as the "New School Numbers" and the "Old School Numbers." The latter, which are shown in the second column, are the numbers which were in force for many years and formed part of a single series for the whole of England and Wales. The new School Numbers, which are shown in the first column, are arranged in a separate series for the area of each Local Education Authority, and came into force in 1906. The reason for the alteration of the numbers was explained in the Explanatory Note to the preceding volume.

10. The numbers assigned to Schools under any one Local Education Authority follow, as a rule, the alphabetical order of the Schools in the area of the Authority. In a few cases a special order has been adopted; for instance, schools provided by the Local Education Authority may be placed first and be followed by schools not so provided. In such cases the special arrangement is noted at the head of the list for the area. In the case of schools in the area under a County Council the arrangement is always alphabetical.

Digitized by Google

11. In the case of London, owing to exceptional circumstances, a new series of numbers has not yet come into force, and therefore the old numbers continue to be applicable.

12. The system of numbering which is explained above extends only to ordinary Public Elementary Schools maintained by Local Education Authorities. The Higher Elementary Schools have a separate series of numbers, commencing with 29,201, and the Schools aided under Section 15 have also a separate series, commencing with 29,801; the Certified Efficient Schools, however, retain their old School Numbers. In areas under County Councils all these Schools are placed in the List in their position according to alphabetical order; in other areas Certified Efficient Schools are placed in their position according to alphabetical order, or according to the special order adopted for the locality (paragraph 10), but Higher Elementary Schools and Schools aided under Section 15 are placed at the end of the list of Schools in the area.

13. The initial arrangement of the Schools under any Local Education Authority according to their new School Numbers is liable to be disturbed by changes in the names of Schools and by opening of new Schools. These disturbances have been provisionally met by repeating certain numbers and adding letters for purposes of distinction. Should this process in course of time make the list of Schools in any area an inconvenient one, the Board would be prepared to consider the desirability of again re-numbering the schools in the area.

Names of Schools.

14. The names of Schools as given in the second column of the list are the official names of the Schools as they stand upon the Annual Grant List or the List of Certified Efficient Schools. Council Schools (i.e. Schools provided by Local Education Authorities) are indicated in the list by the letter "C."

15. In the case of a School in the area of a Local Education Authority other than a County Council the full name is regarded for official purposes as consisting of (1) the name of the Local Education Authority, and (2) the distinctive name of the School itself. In the case of a School in the area of a County Council, the name of the Local Education Authority is replaced by that of the Minor Local Authority under Section 24 (2) of the Education Act, 1902, i.e. the Council of the Borough or Urban District, or the Parish Council or Parish Meeting of the Parish, which appears to the County Council to be served by the School. Thus the key to the arrangement in the case of Schools under a County Council is the alphabetical order of the Minor Local Authorities whose areas are served by the Schools.

Digitized by Google

16. The distinctive names of the Schools are given as they stand in the Board's official records. These are, in the majority of cases, the names given to the Schools by the Managers when they were first recognised by the Board; but it is possible that errors have crept into these names in the course of years; and, whether this be the case or not, they appear in some cases to be insufficiently distinctive, and in other cases to be unnecessarily long and cumbrous. The Board will be glad to receive from Local Education Authorities and Managers any suggestions which will tend to make the nomenclature of the Schools simpler and more distinctive, subject to the retention of the name of the Minor Local Authority, which is necessary for purposes of classification.

17. In particular it is desirable to eliminate such terms as "Grammar School" or "Higher Grade School," which, whatever may have been the case in the past, will not for the future really answer to educational facts, and will therefore inevitably be misleading. In some cases it may be found possible to replace the term "Grammar School" by "Endowed School." Of the existing "Higher Grade" Schools, many will probably become Higher Elementary Schools; in other cases the Board are of opinion that the term "Higher Grade" should be dropped altogether where the Schools no longer differ in any important respect from other Public Elementary Schools.

18. In accordance with an intimation given in the Explanatory Note to the previous volume, and in the Circulars 549 and 550 subsequently issued by the Board, the terms "National" and "British," which formerly appeared in the names of certain Schools, have been omitted. In some cases the omission of the term from the name of the School has been sufficient; in other cases it has been necessary, with a view to avoiding confusion, to substitute some other term distinctive of the character, history, or locality of the School.

Nature of Religious Instruction.

19. The nature of the religious instruction given in a School, so far as it is known, is shown in the fourth column. As was explained in the previous volume, the main source of the Board's information in the past as to the nature of the religious instruction was the denominational character of the School as indicated by the name given to the School by the Managers. It was found, however, that the religious instruction actually given was not always in accordance with that suggested by the name, and it was decided to insert a separate column showing (so far as the Board's information goes) the existing usage as regards religious instruction in Schools other than Schools provided by Local Education Authorities.

20. It must, however, be borne in mind that the Board have not in the case of every School recent and accurate information as to the nature of the religious instruction actually given. This is a matter within the discretion of the Managers, subject to the provisions of Section 7 (6) of the Education Act, 1902, and it has not been the practice of the Board to call upon Managers to make any formal Return to them of their decisions under that Section. The Board in the course of the enquiries which it was necessary to make for the purpose of carrying into effect Section 11 of the Education Act, 1902, obtained information from certain Schools with regard to their usage in religious instruction; and in the case of these Schools the entry in the fourth column in the present volume gives the usage as then stated. These, however, form a small minority of the total number. In cases in which the Board have no information as to usage, but the School is governed by a Trust Deed which prescribes that a certain kind of religious instruction shall be given, the Board have presumed that the usage is in accordance with the Trust Deed, and an entry has been made in the fourth column accordingly. If the Board have no information, either direct or inferred from the Trust Deed, as to usage, the column is left blank. This must not, however, be taken as necessarily implying that no religious instruction is given in the School.

21. In the case of Certified Efficient Schools the religious instruction, as shown, has been ascertained either from the Trust Deed or from the information given to the Board when application was first made for recognition of the School. It is not, however, certain that these entries correspond exactly with the existing usage. There are also a large number of cases in which the column is left blank, but this must not be taken as implying that there is no religious instruction.

22. As regards Schools provided by Local Education Authorities, no information with regard to the religious instruction given in any particular School is in the Board's possession, but some general information on this head with regard to the area of each Local Education Authority as a whole may be obtained from a Return made to the House of Lords in 1906 (No. 115).

23. The ordinary symbols used in the fourth column to denote the more usual forms of religious instruction are:—

"C. E." for Church of England,
"R. C." for Roman Catholic,
"W." for Wesleyan,
"J." for Jewish,
and "U." for Undenominational.

Where the religious instruction is not capable of being indicated in this way, its nature (so far as known to the Board) is stated in a footnote, indicated by a dagger (†) placed in the fourth column.

School Year.

24. The fifth column shows, as has been customary in previous issues of the List, the month following the close of the School Year; i.e. (in the case of a Public Elementary School) the month on the first day of which, subject to the conditions of the Annual Grant having been satisfied, that Grant becomes payable in respect of the School.

Accommodation.

25. The figures given in the sixth column show the recognised accommodation in each School on 1st August 1906, and notes are added showing all changes recorded by the Board as made in the accommodation between 1st August 1905 and 31st July 1906. In the case of a School consisting of two or more separate Departments, the column shows not merely the total accommodation which is entered upon the records of the Board for the whole School, but also the accommodation for each Department. Letters B., G., M., and I. are prefixed to the accommodation to show whether the School or Department is for Boys only, for Girls only, for Boys and Girls (whether taught together or in separate classes), or for Infants.

26. Where a School or Department contains a Division for Infants, and the separate accommodation provided for the Infants is known, it is shown with the initial letter I., the remainder of the accommodation being shown as B., G., or M., as the case may be. The Board do not, however, always possess a separate record of the accommodation provided for a Division of Infants which is attached to a School or Department for older children.

27. The accommodation of a School or Department is the number of children that can properly be accommodated in the premises, according to such information as the Board possess. There is, however, no doubt that the accommodation, as given in the list, is in many cases inaccurate, and does not correspond to the true accommodation of the School, and the Board are considering what steps should be taken to obtain more correct information as to the numbers for which the individual Schools and Departments can be recognised. There have meanwhile been considerable alterations in the recognised accommodation of Schools, especially in London, so that the figures as given in the List cannot be relied upon as giving the recognised accommodation at the date of publication.

28. The principles on which accommodation of Schools has been settled are not the same in all cases. In the case of Schools erected by Local Education Authorities with the aid of a loan, the numbers have been determined after consideration of the plans, and of the arrangement of desks in each room, the minimum floor space allowed for each scholar having in the first instance been about 10 square feet for older children and 8 square feet for infants. In the case of new Voluntary Schools, the same rule has been followed since 1890. In the case, however, of Voluntary Schools erected prior to that date, the Board have not always been supplied with complete plans, and the accommodation has usually been calculated at 8 square feet for each scholar, according to the dimensions of the rooms as given in the annual returns made by the Managers. These dimensions have probably not in all cases been accurate; and there may have been subsequent alterations in the arrangement of the rooms, of which no notification has been sent to the Board. The Code for 1893 imposed a minimum area of 10 square feet for each child in all new Schools for older children, the minimum area in the case of infants remaining at 8 square feet. In 1899 the minimum area for infants was increased to 9 square feet. The Building Regulations now provide that in the case of older scholars the plans of new Schoolrooms and classrooms must show an average of not less than 10 square feet of floor space for each place, and that in the case of infants the average must be not less than 9 square feet for each place, and it is hoped that by degrees the accommodation in all Schools will be brought up to this standard.

29. Even where the accommodation of a School or Department was correctly calculated in the first instance, it is possible that rooms which were originally reckoned towards the accommodation have been withdrawn and converted to other purposes, or that new rooms have been added, without information being sent to the Board.

30. An asterisk (*) has been placed against the total accommodation of any School, on account of any part of which a Building Grant was made, either by the Treasury before the appointment of a Committee of Council on Education, or at a later date by that Committee itself. The details of these Building Grants are set out in the Statement of Public Elementary Schools which have received Building Grants, issued (Cd. 1336) in 1902.

Average Attendance.

31. Since the dates at which School Years (see paragraph 23) end are at present distributed over the whole of the calendar year, it is not possible to show the average attendance of Schools or Departments for a period ending on a uniform date. The Statistics published annually by the Board comprise figures as to average attendance which relate to School Years ending on dates from 31st August of one year to 31st July of the next year; in other words, School Years ending in the "Statistical Year" commencing on 1st August and ending on 31st July. The average attendance shown in the last volume, which gave the list of Schools on the Annual Grant List on 1st January 1906, related to the Statistical Year 1903–4; i.e., it showed the average attendance for that School Year of each School which ended on a date falling between 1st August 1903 and 31st July 1904, inclusive. The present volume therefore shows for each School the average attendance belonging to the Statistical Year 1904–5; i.e., the average attendance for the School Year which ended on a date falling between 1st August 1904 and 31st July 1905, inclusive. The corresponding figures for the Statistical Year 1905–6 will be given in the next volume.

32. In order, therefore, to compare average attendance with accommodation, it is necessary to take into account not only the accommodation as shown in the fifth column but also the changes in accommodation as shown in the foot-notes either to the present volume or to the preceding volume. The latter showed changes of accommodation which took place between 1st September 1903 and 1st January 1906; and it is possible, by means of this information and of the information given in the present volume as to further changes up to 31st July 1906, to ascertain the accommodation at any time during the School Year to which the figures as to average attendance for any particular School relate.

33. There are some cases in which a School whose average attendance falls within the scope of the present volume was closed before 1st August 1905. The names of these Schools, like those of Schools which were upon the Annual Grant List or the List of Certified Efficient Schools for part only of the period from 1st August 1905 to 31st July 1906, are printed in italic type; and the dates at which the Schools were opened or closed are shown by foot-notes.

Fees.

34. The Schools or Departments in which fees were charged during the School Year for which the average attendance is given are indicated by the mark § or ‡ in the column for average attendance. The mark § denotes that fees were charged for scholars both under and over 15 years of age; the mark ‡ denotes that fees were charged in the School or Department, but only for scholars over 15 years of age.
